A MEMORABLE

The entire object of true education is to make people not merely do the right thing, but enjoy the right things; not merely industrious, but to love industry; not merely learned, but to love knowledge; not merely pure, but to love purity; not merely just, but to hunger and thirst after justice—Ruskin

PREPARATION

FOR FUTURE

FALL . . .

Fall began a "memorable year" filled with many wonderful moments. From the kick-off to the winning touchdown, football season provided excitement and enthusiasm. From float building to the crowning of the Queen, Homecoming was a glorious, memorable day. Clubs began to organize and plan school projects. On College Night, representatives from nearby colleges and universities discussed with students the importance of a future education. Underclassmen also began making definite plans for higher education. Pursuing new courses was the real adventure of the fall.

It is the job of the Board of Supervisors to govern all Brunswick County affairs of a local nature.

The board has the authority to approve appropriations for school budgets and buildings.

These men, who are elected by the voters of the districts of Brunswick County, have made provision for school operating needs as well as for our improved and new buildings.

Boards Rule School Program

In the hands of the School Board is placed the future of the Brunswick High students. The Board has the authority over important rules, regulations, policies, and decisions.

These men, well versed in the problems of school students, prove their wisdom and understanding many times in solving and eliminating problems that arise.

Mr. W. S. Peebles, Jr., Chairman; Mr. Guy Estes, Mr. W. H. Lucy, Mrs. Dorothy Daniel, Mr. W. H. Hawthorne, Mr. A. A. Hayman, Mr. E. E. Will, Superintendent of Schools.

Capable Administrators

Mr. Edwin E. Will, Division Superintendent of Schools, keeps busy with employment of teachers, balancing budgets, maintaining and erecting buildings, supervising buses and schedules. Yet he demonstrates his interest in student life and activities with frequent visits to our high school events.

Supervise Programs

As administrator, advisor, and friend, Mr. R. J. Jones, B.H.S. principal, has won the respect and admiration of the faculty and the student body.

He has encouraged balanced programs involving every phase of school life and has coordinated the courses to the progressively better curriculum. This encouragement has brought a greater emphasis on academics. The honor roll is now posted in the hall and academic letters are awarded to seniors with a B average through his interest and support.

A loyal fan and avid supporter of the Bulldogs, Mr. Jones attends innumerable school functions and participates in countless student activities. Whether beaming over a trophy, adding a spark of humor to an assembly, or seriously discussing the future of a student, he constantly radiates a feeling of well-being and pride.

Miss Beverly Jones, school secretary, is a busy person yet she always has time to smile as she goes about her various duties. She handles school monies, correspondence and orders such important things for students as rings, invitations, and caps and gowns.

Foreign Language Program Expands

For the first time B.H.S. students may complete three years of study in one language. Latin students who have learned basic vocabulary and grammar in Latin I and also read the campaigns of Caesar's COMMENTARIES ON THE GALLIC WAR in Latin II may now further their knowledge through a third-year study of Cicero and Sallust.

A two-year study of Spanish includes reading, vocabulary, and grammar. The culture and customs of the various Spanish-speaking people are also important to the Spanish student.

Mrs. Flinn, Mrs. Jones, and Mr. Jones enjoy joke at annual Latin Banquet.

English Students Enjoy Classics

College-bound seniors have the opportunity to develop their basic communication skills through an advanced English class placing emphasis on composition, theme writing, literary classics, and public speaking.

The English department at B.H.S. not only emphasizes the essentials of grammar and spelling, but encourages interest in speech, writing, and drama.

After completing two years of general study in grammar and literature, students begin to concentrate on specific fields of learning. Sophomores are instilled with an appreciation of classic novelists, poets, and playwrights. Here they also are introduced to Shakespeare.

English for Juniors consists of the study of American essays, short stories, and poems. Here they meet such famous writers as Whitman, Thoreau, Twain, Sandburg, and Frost.

Mrs. Long uses slide projector to teach punctuation.

Social Studies Stress

Current events, as well as past history, are stressed by the social studies department. Many courses which broaden the knowledge of past events also help explain to students current happenings in proper relationships and prospective.

United States History for the eighth graders consists of a general study of American History which will help them learn and understand the basic foundations of our democratic way of life in the U. S. and to assume their proper responsibilities as future citizens.

World History is a course devoted to the study of the developments of other nations throughout the world. It covers the ancient civilizations of Greece and Rome in addition to the development of European culture through the Reformation.

Much attention is given to current events and contemporary problems through the use of the weekly newspapers, "Everyweek" and "Current Events."

World Geography familiarizes pupils with the basic cultures, customs, natural resources and the social economics of the important countries of the world. Locations of countries, states, cities, bodies of water and other important world areas are also emphasized.

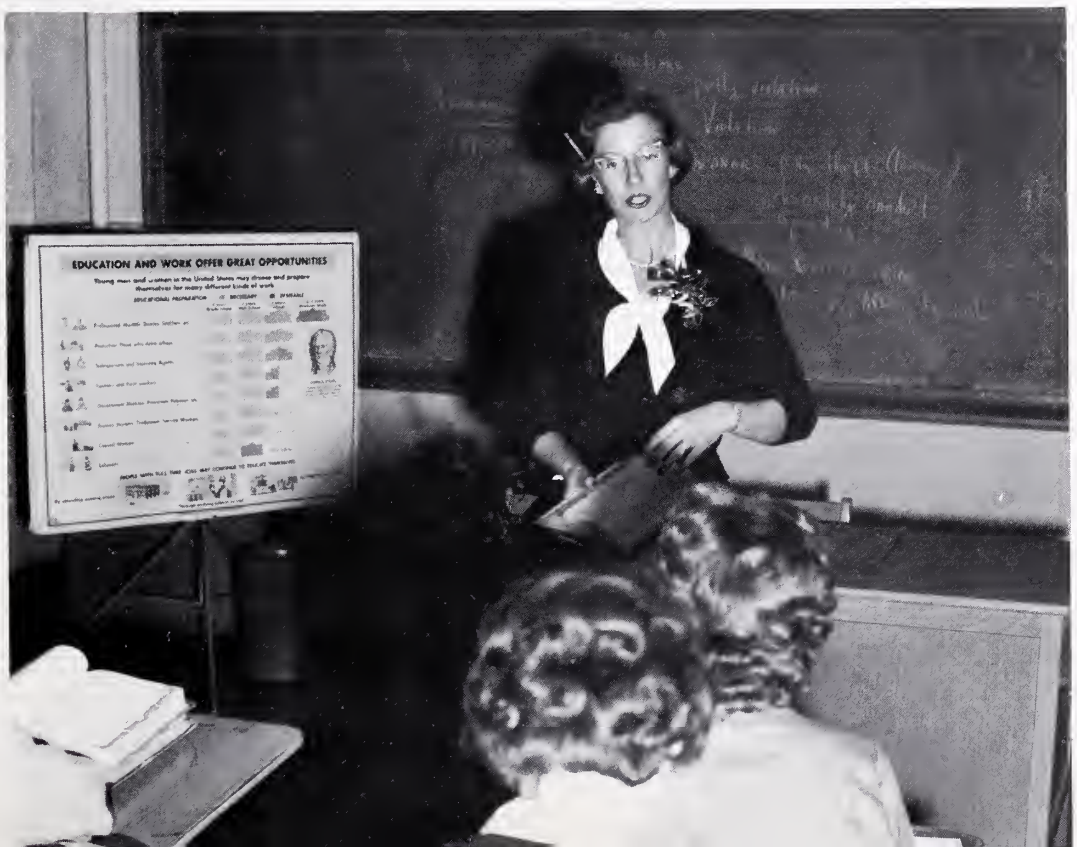
The eleventh grade Unites States History course begins with the exploration and colonization of North America. Touching on the French and Indian War, it covers the Revolutionary War, the War Between the States, and World Wars I and II. Current events are studied to aid students in understanding and in defining the situations and issues of our time.

Government class teaches students the fundamentals of federal, state, and local governments; and their responsibilities as citizens. A special course comparing Communism to Democracy is also included in government study.

Current Events For Citizenship

Miss White watches a World Geography class take a test.

Mrs. Hutchenson explains working of our federal government to seniors.



Math And

Numbers face us everywhere from the time on a watch to the dial on the phone. All math, however, is not simple as students in the B.H.S. math program discover daily.

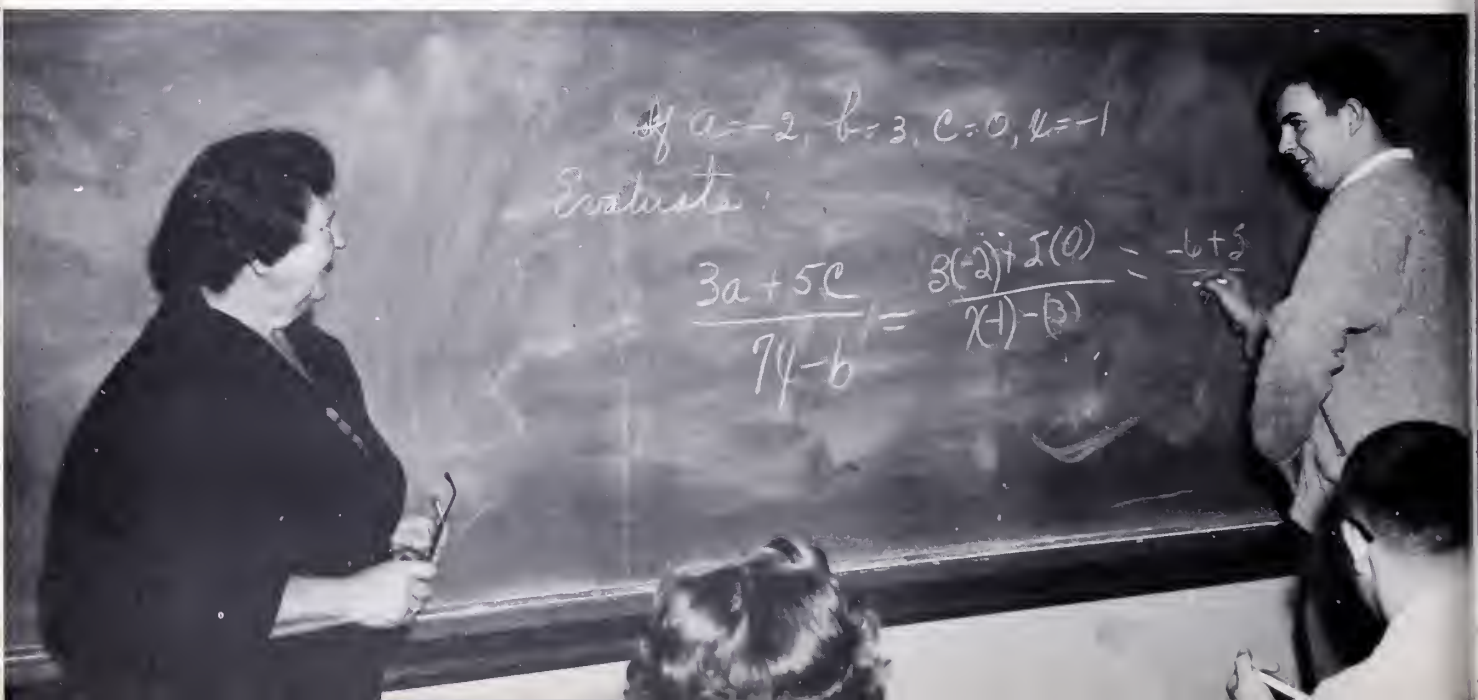
General math gives students basic mathematic skills which they will need as future homemakers and businessmen.

Signed numbers, unknowns, and graphs help confuse the first-year algebra student, while the second-year student spends many hours attempting to untangle quadratic equations, logarithms, and exponents.

Geometry emphasizes logical thinking and orderly arrangement of ideas. A combined study of plane and solid geometry aids the student in deductive reasoning, geometric proof, and both plane and dimensional figures.

Advanced math introduces the student to many of the new mathematical concepts. Venn diagrams, number systems, graphs, and trigometric formulas prove both interesting and perplexing to college-bound seniors.

Mrs. Smithson looks on as John Hawthorne works Algebra equation.



Science Challenge

Science courses at B.H.S. prove to be a real challenge to the students.

General science courses for the eighth and ninth graders introduce them to each of the sciences of our space age.

Interrelationships between various living organisms and the enviroment around them are taught to the Biology students. They study plants and animals through the use of charts, microscopes, and dissections.

Advanced science offers the tenth graders a year of study in such fields as astronomy, chemistry, and physics.

Chemistry covers completely the study of elements, compounds, and mixtures. Knowledge of symbols, valences, and charges of the elements established a firm basis for learning how they react and what particular compound they form.

Physics is the study of matter and how it effects man. In the classroom and in the laboratory physics involves the study of principles and the working of problems in relation to these principles.

Mr. Rhoton performs minor surgery while Jack Green and Charles Lewis look on.

Mr. Bell sets up Chemistry problem for George Smith, Mary Kidd, and Bobby Scott Coleman.

Band And Glee Club Present

Music Appreciation now supplements Band in the music curriculum at B.H.S. The class meets three days a week to study topics including folk music, opera, classical compositions, and famous composers. During the study of musical comedy, they attended the Virginia Museum's presentation of THE KING AND I. On the remaining two days the class and interested girls from study hall met to form the B.H.S. Glee Club.

Band activities are both many and varied this year. Fifty-nine members enjoyed trips, playing at football games, and several concerts. Details are given on pages 76 and 77.

Also a special dance band was organized.

Community Christmas Program

Band practices formations for half-time show.

Physical Education

The physical education program for girls offers instruction in safety, first aid, health, and driver education on Mondays, and Wednesdays. Tuesdays and Thursdays mean softball, tumbling, volleyball, archery, basketball and calisthenics. On Fridays boys and girls join together for social education in the gym as newest dance steps and twists are learned and enjoyed.

Mrs. Cowan, girl's physical education instructor.

Get that rebound!
Close your eyes,
Open your mouth.

Means Fun And Work

Boys follow the same basic program as girls in the classroom instruction, except that their teachers are men.

For the first time this year an additional teacher was provided at Brunswick High School in order to offer Behind-the-Wheel instruction to all boys and girls who might desire to become better drivers and save money on insurance.

Many boys learn basic skills in physical education classes that enable them to take more interest in sports and to participate on junior varsity and varsity teams.

Mr. Pinchbeck, boy's physical education instructor.

Linda Moore posts accounts in bookkeeping class.

Business Dept.

Future Office

Click, click, click, ting. These are the sounds which come from the typewriters and other machines in the typing rooms where Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Thompson teach business techniques and skills.

The B.H.S. students taking the complete commercial course begin their study in Typing I by learning the different keys on the typewriter and slowly develop speed with skill. Those taking Shorthand I begin by learning all the shorthand characters and then developing the necessary speed. The second year of typing and shorthand completes and adds polish to the students' speed and accuracy.

Mrs. Jones's Office Practice class gives the students practical training in office routine. The high-light of this class is the "dress-up day" when the girls come to school dressed in office clothes. These Office Practice students draw attention from the other students and are asked questions like, "Why so dressed up?", "What in the world is going on?", "What are you trying to prove?"

The General Business class gives the students a well-rounded knowledge of many various office procedures. The course will also help a person handle his private affairs as well as those of a larger company. Some information is taught in General Business about keeping and balancing a budget, but most of the bookkeeping procedure is reserved for Mrs. Thompson's Bookkeeping class. The Bookkeeping course here at Brunswick will help a person keep better personal records as well as company records.

This training provides the students with the knowledge and skills they will need in order to make a living in the years to come.

Mrs. Thompson dictates to shorthand students.

Prepares Workers

Mrs. Jones advises Doma Daniel and Kitty Lafoon as they prepare transcriptions.

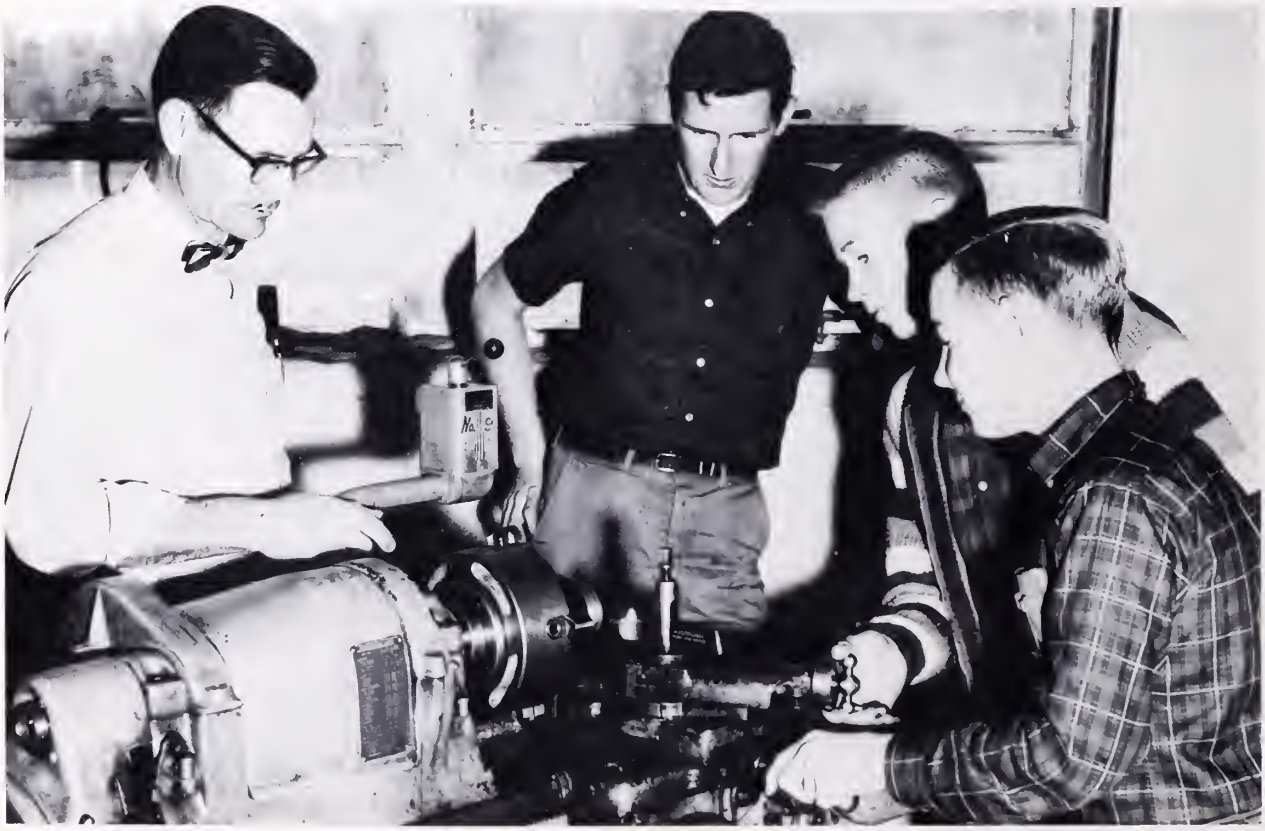
Mr. Goodman demonstrates to Ronny Eastwood, Eddie Long, and James Bradford the use of the compass.

Mr. Chambliss shows Bennet Perkins, James Moore, and Morris Pearson how to make their own metal repair parts with a lathe.



INDUSTRIAL ARTS OFFERS VARIED PROGRAMS

The first year of the Industrial Arts course consists of nine weeks each of four courses: drawing, metal shop, wood shop, and electricity. This gives the student an introduction to all phases of Industrial Arts.

The second year a student can take any two of these courses he chooses for 18 weeks each. The third year a student can take the two he didn't take the year before or specialize in only one course.

Mr. Goodman teaches wood shop and mechanical drawing. In wood shop a student learns how to build furniture, buildings and carpentry. Mechanical drawing teaches the student how to plan his project thoroughly before he starts to build it.

Mr. Chambliss teaches electricity and wood shop. Electricity contains much lab work and study toward practical applications in the fields of house wiring, motor and appliance study, repair, and a brief introduction to communications. Metal shop teaches use of lathe, welding and sheet metal work.

Girls Learn Homemaking

Home Economics I is an introduction to various phases of homemaking. The girls learn to improve themselves in grooming, personality, and in relation to others. They are made aware of home safety, health habits, furniture arrangement, and other ideas for making homes attractive. The girls learn nutrition, how to plan and prepare meals, and table service. They learn to select patterns, to use a sewing machine, and construct garments for themselves.

Home Ec. II continues clothing construction on a more advanced level--learning to knit and to sew woolen materials. Preparations for setting up a home, caring for the sick, and meeting the needs of young children are discussed.

Wise buying and budgeting are brought out in Home Ec. III. Planning for happy future homes and family responsibility for the young are discussed.

Billy Judd, Donald Baird, Danny Myrick, Albert Stone, and John Pearson admire road grader attachment for tractor.

Vo. Ag. Teaches Modern Skills

Agriculture offers the eighth and ninth grade boys the opportunity to develop their knowledge of basic orientation of farm crops and livestock.

The classroom study includes methods of controlling insects harmful to crops. Types of soil, proper fertilization, and chemistry are very important to the modern farmer. Farmers often have to plant new trees and assist in the conservation of our forests. By conserving the forests, the farmers also aid in wildlife preservation. Since no farm is complete without animals, this course covers types and breeds of animals. Stock management, feeding, and nutrition are also included. Of most importance is proper farm management and bookkeeping.

The shop boys learn about electric welding and the repair of farm machinery. Extra-curricular activities include various judging contests.

Woody Davis and Ray Lewis plane a board for livestock pen.

Charlotte Roberts works on art sketches.

Money Plus Experience

The D.E. and I.C.T. classes offer on-the-job work experience to students preparing for vocational fields while in high school. These programs are open to juniors and seniors and have always been a popular phase of our curriculum.

Two units credit are earned by the pupil who spends half his day in the classroom and half on the job. Pupils not only have an opportunity to earn extra spending money but also gain valued experience for future vocational choices. More details may be found on page 93.

Classes

Senior year at B.H.S. has brought many varied emotions to the Class of '64. Making friends with both students and faculty filled the hours with a deeper sense of responsibility and accomplishment. Joking, studying, learning --passed the year so quickly.

As the school leaders, the senior class provides the majority of officers and leaders for all school clubs, athletic teams, and honorary societies.

Future plans require immediate attention. Serious consideration must be given to the various colleges and universities, while College Boards also require time and thought.

A successful senior play, a colorful Junior-Senior Prom, an informative senior trip, and final exams are all events long to be remembered.

Then, at last, comes graduation. As the Class of '64 files down the aisle, all seniors realize what has really counted is not how many hours they have spent, how long they have worked, but what they have accomplished.

September finds juniors represented in almost every club and team at Brunswick. Eagerly accepting their responsibilities they contribute readily to any and all school activities.

In October the juniors, looking towards education plans, attended College Night to interview representatives of various colleges.

Highlighting the year is the Junior-Senior Prom. After selecting a theme, materials must be ordered and assembled. Decorating the gym many long hours, the juniors provide the seniors with an entertaining evening, the climax of the year's activities.

Learning begins at an early age so that by the time one enters the tenth grade he is ready for the responsibility of hard mental work. Each student's curriculum has been established and his subjects are planned to meet the future needs of each individual.

The tenth grader is now accepted, clubs and sports open their doors to take him in as a member.

The spirit of the tenth grader is very strong, and he encourages the classmen under him to be loyal to B.H.S. and to begin preparing immediately for the future.

9th Graders Begin Taking

What happened to the eighth graders? They're now ninth graders and busy trying out for the varsity cheerleading squad and varsity sports. They're also getting into clubs and establishing themselves as indispensable to the network at Brunswick High School.

Now having a year's experience at B.H.S., they know what to expect in their future high school years. They learn to make decisions, to accept responsibilities, and to channel their interests.

The seniors ran for cover and teachers smiled their last brave smiles as the eighth graders "hit" the school in September.

Careening down the halls at breakneck pace, the eighth graders had the school in hand in less than a week. They took one look around and began to campaign for any available position open for them. The auditorium soon echoed with yells as girls practiced for J.V. Cheerleader try-outs. Homecoming provided intense excitement as the eighth graders surveyed their class and chose two girls to represent them. J.V. sports rated high in the boy's eyes.

High School, to the eighth graders, is a wonderful place, where something new is going on all the time. It is a new world full of things to be learned and enjoyed. Most important, it is the beginning of preparation for higher education.

WINTER . . .

Activities

Winter came to Brunswick High School, and with it came basketball games, Christmas vacation, mid-term exams, and Valentine festivities.

Basketball aroused school spirit and support from students, parents, and friends. Club activities consumed much of our class time. The Christmas baskets received school support and created real Christmas spirit.

With the arrival of the new year, students began to study for mid-term exams. After exams and the dreaded reports, students anxiously awaited basketball tournaments and spring activities.

Winter--a memorable season that went by too fast!

And The Band

Band leads Homecoming parade down New Street.

Hup! Two! Three! Four! This is the booming sound of the B.H.S. Band as they march down the football field, headed by eight twirling majorettes and color guard. The musical group of fifty-nine offered half-time performances at football games and aided the cheerleaders at pre-game pep rallies.

"Fight, Brunswick, Fight" came to life as the band paraded down Main Street as part of the Homecoming festivities.

Charlottesville, Virginia, set the scene for the annual U.V.A. Band Day at which Brunswick participated, along with fifty-two other bands.

help the group with financial difficulties. The Boasters sponsored the sale of decals as a money-raising project for the members. To climax the sale, the club sponsored Band Appreciation Night at the closing football game where all proceeds went to help band pay for needed instruments and supplies.

One of the highlights of the band year was the All-State Band and Workshop Band held in Richmond. Several of the members received the honor of being chosen to attend.

The band has had good times this year, but above all, endeavored to learn about the different kinds of music by developing skills in playing the various instruments.

Glee Club Is Reorganized

Hark! The sound of voices. Can it be angels or . . . Why, it's the B.H.S. Glee Club!

After a brief absence from the student activities, the Glee Club once again plays an important role in life at Brunswick. The club, consisting of 32 girls from Music Class and study halls, meets twice a week under the direction of Mr. Burgess.

Special occasions as Christmas, Thanksgiving, Easter, and Commencement provide the club with opportunities to render music for the B.H.S. students. A Christmas program for the community was also presented jointly with the B.H.S. Band.

Majorettes Twirl Fire On Band Night

Adding much color, sparkle, and life to the Brunswick High Band are the B.H.S. Majorettes.

Many hours of summer practice and drill paid on in the many routines used at games and on parade. The majorettes led the band in halftime performances, the Homecoming Parade, and the Harvest Festival Parade.

On Band Appreciation Night, Shirley Hazelwood and Alice Wholey sparked halftime activities with fire-baton routines.

Color guards also aided band performances by displaying flags and banners.

Lasting Memories

Producing the BULLDOG absorbs many after-school hours, as well as study hall time, for each of the students on the staff if deadlines are to be met. Staff members have to meet qualifications which involve creative ability, cooperative personalities, and good grades, but of more importance, a genuine interest in the yearbook and of most importance, the desire and willingness to work. Membership on the staff is made up of seniors who have expressed a desire to work and have promised to give the necessary time to fulfill the responsibility of their assignment.

Students are happy and feel honored to play a part in summarizing through pictures and copy their last year of life at Brunswick High.

Through visiting S.I.P.A., studying publications, reading periodicals, and attending staff conferences while assembling the yearbook a student gains valuable training in areas of journalism such as photography, layout, design, writing, editing, topography, art, and advertising.

As the years pass, a yearbook becomes more valuable and enjoyable when one looks back to see and read of the joys and memories from his high school days.

Phyllis Acree checks Senior Statistics.

Bow Wow Initiates Printed Paper

This year, as in the past, the Senior Class published the "Bow Wow," a bi-weekly school newspaper. Something new has been added, however, as for the first time in the history of B.H.S., the paper has been printed rather than mimeographed.

Printing the paper means extra work for the staff and a constant rush to meet the deadline. All the reporters are familiar with the plea, "Please, write your story before Monday." Students on the newspaper staff attend training sessions at S.I.P.A. each spring to aid them in future work.

Skills of writing, rewriting, editing, proofreading, layout and design are learned by staff members as well as advertising and other phases of journalism. These skills not only make for a better school newspaper but help individuals in later life.

The "Bow Wow" has tried to bring to the students of Brunswick High an up-to-date account of happenings in the school and community which affect them as students and to present these happenings in an interesting and informative manner.

Hi-Y Sets High Standards

Under the direction of Advisor R. J. Jones, the Hi-Y carries on many varied activities throughout the year. The club, consisting of juniors and seniors, encourages high standards of character in all phases of life.

Hi-Y funds are secured by selling concessions at football games and presenting a Hi-Y-Faculty basketball game.

Homecoming provided the club with the opportunity for further representation, and they sponsored a float with the Tri-Hi-Y.

The club's main project is sponsoring the Christmas baskets for needy families throughout the community. They encourage students to contribute and arrange for the distribution of the baskets.

Tri-Hi-Y Performs School Services

Betty Matthews, Caren Clary and Alice Browder admire B.H.S. stationary sold by Tri-Hi-Y.

The backbone of the Tri-Hi-Y is clean speech, clean scholarship, and clean living. Composed of juniors and seniors, the club dedicates itself to "creating, maintaining, and extending Christian character throughout the home, school, and community." The club activities center around this aim.

To provide the school with a Christian atmosphere, devotions are read daily over the school intercom and special programs are presented at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. Clean sportsmanship was promoted by the Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y Homecoming float.

Serving refreshments added to the Tri-Hi-Y treasury as the girls collaborated with the Hi-Y to sell concessions at home football games. School stationary sales also helped to "balance the budget."

These funds were used for donations to World Service and the annual Christmas baskets to needy families as well as, sending delegates to Model General Assembly, Blue Ridge, and the District Meeting.

Monogram Club Sponsors Homecoming

"B" is perhaps the most important letter in the alphabet to Brunswick students. The ultimate goal of almost every student is to earn the big, blue "B" monogram which symbolizes hours of practice plus the required amount of game participation.

The club, however, stresses sportsmanship as well as ability, and a sportsmanship trophy is awarded annually to the boy and girl whom the committee from the faculty and team-mates selects as displaying outstanding sportsmanship on and off the playing field.

Homecoming festivities are the principal concern of the club as they sponsor the Homecoming parade and the dance following the game. Members also sell programs at games and help with concessions during basketball and baseball seasons.

The activities of the year are climaxed by a picnic and the presentation of athletic keys to all senior members of the club.

Betas Encourage Excellence

Bobby Hawthorne, Beta President, crowns Annie Mae Johnson as 1963 Queen of Hearts.

"Brains" to many students of Brunswick High is synonymous with Beta Club, but to Beta members it means much more. Beta Club is a national honorary society consisting of juniors and seniors who display high standards of character in addition to maintaining a 90 average in all high school work.

To Beta members fruit cakes mean money, for the fall sale of fruit cakes was one method of "swelling the money-bags." The treasury was supplemented by the proceeds from the annual Valentine Dance, which the club sponsored.

The Beta funds were quickly depleted in March by the representatives sent to the State Beta Convention in Roanoke. At this convention they exchanged ideas for Beta activities with other clubs throughout the state.

The climax of the years hard work was the spring picnic, rain or shine, everyone enjoyed food, fun, and fruit cake!

FHA Encourages Citizenship

Christmas found the girls busily helping to prepare the Christmas baskets and decorating a lovely tree for the front hall of Brunswick High.

One of the necessities for any organization is money, and once again the girls campaigned, but this time for themselves. They urged all students, teachers, and parents to buy cookbooks and Christmas corsages to help the F.H.A. continue its service to the school and community.

Busy-bees, sponsored by Mrs. Griffith and made up of all girls taking home economics, has sponsored campaigns boosting home beautification, safety in the home, and better family relations. These campaigns were publicized by eye-catching bulletin boards in the halls of the school. Besides the home projects, the club also sponsored a civic project during which the members made sheets and tray favors for hospitals in this area.

FFA Prepares Farmers For Future

The Future Farmers of America, or "F.F.A." as it is commonly known, is the national organization of, by, and for boys studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools under the provisions of the National Vocational Education Acts.

In addition to studying scientific methods of carrying on vocational agriculture, each boy is required to actually carry out projects on his home farm.

The motto of the organization is "Learning to Do -- Doing to Learn -- Earning to Live -- Living to Serve."

A great deal of time is spent on extra-curricular activities which consist mostly of judging contests, the Father and Son Banquet, the study of parliamentary procedure, and citizenship.

Students Create Interest In Spanish

"La Senora Vaughan y las classes de espanol" make up the Spanish Club at Brunswick High. Through this organization, Mrs. Vaughan tries to instill an interest in the customs and history, as well as the language of the Spanish-speaking people.

After a year of study and fun, the club sponsored the annual Spring picnic where all the senores y senoritas enjoyed lots of food and fun.

Latin Club Sponsors Annual Latin Day

One day out of the year the halls of B.H.S. are invaded by authenic Romans attired in togas and sandals. Latin Day, as this event is called, is the high spot of the year for second year students as they initiate first year "plebians" into the Latin Club. The day begins with a Latin program in assembly, progresses to a money-raising cake walk in the gym, while first year students perform varied ridiculous duties and ends with a sigh of relief from the newly initiated Latin Club members.

The funds raised by the cake walk are used in the spring for a Latin banquet where the Romans and the faculty members are served a real feast by first year slaves.

Library Club Serves B.H.S. Students

With an annual book circulation of 20,000 and over 200 students using the facilities of the library daily, the job of being a Library Club member is an important one.

Library Club members are on duty in the library six periods every day and also before school to aid Mrs. Elmore, the librarian, in varied ways. Many old books have to be mended and shelved, while new books must be processed. Students are always clamoring for particular books or magazines which club members willingly help locate.

The Library Club bulletin boards also provide color and interest to the library. Special displays covered such occasions as American Education Week, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and the death of President Kennedy.

D.E. And I.C.T. Earn While Learning

Distributive Education is a cooperative work program between the school and those businesses engaged in the field of distribution, such as department stores, drug stores, grovery stores, jewelry stores, and variety stores. The jobs or work experiences include such fields as sales clerks, window dressing, advertising, stock control, warehousing, and purchasing.

Industrial Cooperative Training is a cooperative work program between the school and industry. The jobs or work experiences include body and fender work, service stations operators, parts department workers, cosmetologists, florist designers, library work, office work, and newspaper work.

To be eligible a student must be at least 16 years old and be a junior in high school. The students go to school in the mornings and work in the afternoons. This course also helps the student find out those types of jobs that he may not be interested in. The students get paid for their work and this helps out with their school expenses.

Local 4-H Club Achieves Honors

This year's 4-H Short Course was held from June 24-29 on the VPI campus at Blacksburg. The twelve club members who represented Brunswick County are as follows: Judi Pope, Lyn Bell, Page Hargrave, Betty Browder, J. B. Edmonds, Edward Rives Myrick, George Coleman, John Hawthorne, Rannie Burge, Robert Scott Coleman, Billy Hawthorne, Eugene Daniel, and Glenn Updike, assistant county agent. Eugene Daniel says, "This was the greatest week in my life." He won a $1600 scholarship, and was also elected third vice-president of the 1964 State Short Course.

Billy Hawthorne received the state achievement and leadership award and he represented over 10,000 4-H'ers at National 4-H Club Conference which was held at Chevy-Chase, Maryland.

George Edward Coleman was the state award in entomology and spoke on several T.V. programs.

Mr. Francis Basham, County Agent, and Mr. Glenn Updike, 4-H Sponsor, congratulate Eugene Daniel upon winning $1600 scholarship.

"Victory! Victory! That's Our Cry!"

Unrestrained voices bellow the familiar cheers from the school auditorium to the B.H.S. athletic field. Behind these unmuffled sounds are the ten 1963-64 Brunswick High School Cheerleaders. Of course, a good cheerleading squad requires more than the lone ability to yell. Practice, leadership and cooperation are also involved.

Prior to the opening of football season in mid-September, the ten varsity cheerleaders convened for weekly summer practices at which they learned new cheers and mastered the old ones. The squad presided over the game pep rallies and sought to create pep and support for the team through the construction and display of attractive posters throughout the corridors of B.H.S.

"Silence Day" also sponsored by the cheerleaders, climaxed the Homecoming festivities. After the brief morning pep rally, complete quiet captured the halls, cafeteria and classrooms of B.H.S. until the pre-game bonfire, an annual highlight of Homecoming activities.

New ideas and cheers accompanied the opening of basketball season as the cheerleaders again lead the student body in demonstrating school spirit and sportsmanship of Brunswick, on the court as well as the gridiron.

Lyn Clay and Audrey Clary caution onlookers.

The arrival of August 23 brought 25 inexperienced, yet eager and determined boys to the B.H.S. athletic field. A new addition, John Baker from Bridgewater College, joined head coach, B. I. Pinchbeck, on the coaching staff for the Bulldogs.

In the opening game the Bulldogs met the Panthers of Victoria to open the season with a hard-fought 6-6 tie.

The Crewe Railroaders, District Champions of 1962, overpowered the Brunswick eleven in the second game of the season, with the game ending in a score of Crewe 13, Brunswick 0.

The comeback for the Bulldogs was the victory over Meadowbrook, a Group I-B team in Chesterfield County. This was the first meeting of the two teams, and the outcome was Brunswick 7, Meadowbrook 0.

A second tie for the improving Bulldogs came as they met the Barons of Bluestone in the fourth game of the season. The final score, 6-6, showed the defensive strength of the Brunswick eleven.

Seeking their 6th consecutive triumph over the Greensville County Eagles, the team traveled to Emporia. The game, with a final score of Emporia 26; Brunswick 7, awarded the Eagles their first possession of the "Old Oaken Bucket."

The Homecoming game against the Wolverines of Prince Edward Academy brought the second Brunswick victory with a score of 10-0. A field goal by Buck Rogers, the first in Brunswick history, brought the first score of the game in the fourth quarter.

The Bulldogs' offensive power prevailed again against the Orioles of Amelia. The Orioles scored twice in the first half, but the determined Bulldogs sought revenge in the second half to edge Amelia 13 to 12.

Halloween favored Brunswick with a tight 6-0 win over the Blackstone Rams. The Bulldog defense, halting a last-minute rally by the Rams, proved to be a decisive factor in the game.

Remembering last year's thrilling game, the Bulldogs faced the strong offensive speed of the Park View Dragons. Park View, having never defeated Brunswick in football, came out on the top end with a score of Park View 32, Brunswick 6.

The Bulldogs gained revenge for the loss of the '62 championship at the hands of Randolph Henry, as they dominated play to beat the Statesmen 30-0 in the final game of the season.

Selected to the 1963 All-District team was David Fleshood, a senior guard and linebacker. Given honorable mention were Buck Rogers, Billy Baise, and W. J. Brockwell.

Cagers Shoot For 3rd

With three of their '62-'63 starters returning, the Bulldogs captured the District Title for the third consecutive year. Combining strength under the backboards with accurate shooting and a tight defense, the Bulldogs compiled a 16-2 record through the District Tournament and anxiously looked towards Charlottesville and the State Tournament. They won the Regional Tournament at Charlottesville but lost in the semi-finals of the State Tournament in Blacksburg.

Bulldogs Win 3rd Successive

Led by the strong pitching of veteran Raymond Daniel and newcomer Woody Davis, the Bulldog squad rode to its most successful season.

Going into the last game with a .289 team batting average, the dream of an undefeated season was shattered by Bluestone as Baron pitcher Randy Thompson held the Brunswick nine to one hit in winning 1-0. The offense averaged 8 runs a game, while a steady defense allowed only 3 runs per game.

SPRING . . .

Spring came suddenly, bringing with it a revival of life and activity at B.H.S. Baseball brought fans from all parts of the county to the B.H.S. diamond. Spring fever found students gazing out of windows or lolling in the halls. The Junior-Senior Prom was perhaps our first, or for many Seniors, our last. Long-awaited graduation day finally arrived and with it came tears and emotions resulting from many contrasting memories.

Susie Spence Crowned Homecoming Queen

Mass confusion well describes the state of Brunswick High as students prepared for the annual Homecoming festivities. Each class was allowed to choose two candidates for Homecoming Queen. In a ballot of the student body, Susie Spence was chosen queen.

Thursday all was comparatively quiet in the halls of Brunswick, as the Monogram Club and the cheerleaders held a "Silence Day." A pep rally was held in the auditorium at quarter to nine, but from nine to three silence reigned as students "rested" their voices for the bonfire Thursday night. Besides all the cheering and "silences" there was the hectic preparation of floats. Each class and the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, as well as the Spanish Club, had floats in the parade.

The homecoming game was between Prince Edward and Brunswick with the crowning of the queen at halftime. After the game a dance in the queen's honor was held in the cafeteria, sponsored by the Monogram Club.

Juniors And Seniors

For two long weeks the Juniors had dashed to and from the gymnasium with expressions of anxiety and excitement written upon their faces, and at last they again scurried about the halls of B.H.S. with smiles of pure satisfaction upon completing decorations for the annual Jr.-Sr.

The focal point of fabulous "Blue Hawaii" was a backdrop depicting a typical strand on the shores of Hawaii, with its blue sky, its glassy waters, and its swaying palms. A nearby grandstand consisted of a beach stand covered with green "mats" and surrounded by brightly-colored palms. Among the other prominent decorations was a grass hut (which was mistaken for an igloo by Mr. Jones) and an island of palms, moss, and multi-colored flowers. Fish, palms, canoes, crepe-paper spheres, and hula girls completed this island of dreams which symbolized endless hours of hard work by the Juniors and their sponsors.

Soon boys in their formal dinner-wear and girls in their long pastel gowns were swaying to the music of the Royal Serenaders from Prince George County, and the Junior-Senior Prom of 1963 was in peak of perfection. After all the invited guests had arrived, girls in splashy mumus and boys in deck pants brought in a feast composed of cake, ham biscuits, potato chips, and punch.

A short time later the dance-floor was crowded again. Now, however, the shutterbugs could no longer be suppressed, and the twinkling of flash bulbs could be glimpsed throughout the gym.

The clock hands seemed to speed toward the magic number of eleven, and boys could be seen casting anxious glances at the hula girls while the girls longingly eyed the crepe-paper spheres. At last they could resist the temptation no longer, and the decorations began to dissolve. Tired and starry-eyed, the couples danced away from "Blue Hawaii" as the island once more became an island of dreams.

Juniors take time out for last-minute decisions as the preparation nears an end.

Judy Chandler Has Lead In Play

Ginny Allen (played by Judy Chandler) a beautiful brain who moves from Chicago to Bridgeport, a small mid-western town, with her family was the center of "Beauty and the Beef", the '64 Senior Play. The other Allens were George Allen (played by Mike Bellone) and Laura (Betty Browder) who are Ginny's parents, as well as her mischievous younger brother Lester (played by Preston Ozmar), a one-idea man.

From the moment Ginny arrived in Bridgeport she tried to conceal her reputation of being the smartest girl ever to graduate from the "Junior Quiz Program." Her "dumb act" was all for the benefit of Beef Anderson (Joe Barkley) who was the star of Bridgeport's football team.

Ginny was given able assistance in her schemes by Franny Barton (Anne Lewis) who was also a brain and had the added misfortune of being the principal's daughter. Her objective was Foggy Ryan (played by David Fleshood) who seemed to have all the answers, except how to get along with Franny and a glamorous majorette (Alice Browder).

In addition to "man-hunting" the girls tried to help when a desperate situation developed with Beef's suspension from the football team. Their efforts, however, only succeeded in complicating matters. In the end, of course, everything work out as planned: Ginny gets Beef, Franny gets Foggy, and the team wins the football game.

As in years past, the play was a success after all, for the audience seemed to think it quite a laughing matter.

Cheerleaders and football team join in party.

Seniors Tour Nation's Capital

The early hours of a May morning will find Brunswick High students leaving to tour Washington, D. C. The fun-filled and informative weekend in the Nation's Capital will climax the last year at B.H.S. for the Class of '64.

The many places of interest to be viewed include the Capitol, Supreme Court Building. Smithsonian Institute, F.B.I. Building, and the House of Representative office building, where students meet Rep. Abbitt.

After two days of almost constant touring, the tired seniors return home with a greater knowledge of our Capital City.

Final Memories Of BHS

Nineteen hundred and sixty-four will soon be written onto the permanent records and into the life of every B.H.S. student. Now as this year quickly draws to an end, we pensively reminisce. The fall, though farthest in the past, may be the most vivid season as we recall exciting football games. Or perhaps the snow-holidays of winter are our fondest memories. Spring, the perennial symbol of beginning, also marks the end of high school for the Class of '64 as we measure for caps and gowns to march down the aisle for the last time.

Advertisements

Without the patronage of the many fine business organizations in and around the Brunswick County area, the publication of our yearbook, the Bulldog, would be impossible. Their interest in us provided the finances which backed the hard work of the Bulldog staff to produce our yearbook. We could not succeed without them!

These same loyal patrons are responsible for the finest services and finest products available to local citizens. We are, indeed, greatly indebted to these organizations for their cooperation with the Bulldog staff. It is our desire that each advertiser will find increased profits and better business relationships through this advertisement in the Bulldog. We feel that each student will make our patrons their first choice in business transactions.

A small group of senior students played salesmen this fall. Their product was the Bulldog; their job was to sell local businesses on the idea of placing an advertisement in the Bulldog. They were responsible for convincing the business that our book would be a good investment. At the same time, they had to sell Brunswick High School to the business. Hats off to this group for representing Brunswick so well. Their job was well done!

The entire student body of our high school and 1964 Bulldog staff wish to express our appreciation for the fine cooperation and generous support of our advertisers and boosters.

As our "memorable year" comes to a close and students leave B.H.S., for just the summer or forever, may they always cherish the wonderful memories of 1964.

STAFF WORKERS KEEP WHEELS TURNING

Lunchroom Staff Prepares Daily Lunches Plus Festive Banquets

Jimmy Jones, Larry Ceesee, Eugene Ward, Frankie Ellis, and Sammy Whitby enjoy milk with lunch.

Students rushing down the halls to the cafeteria is a familiar sight to all who are around B.H.S. at 11:55 or 12:50 on any school day. Nearly 90 per cent of the student body eats lunch served by our lunchroom staff. For thirty cents a student enjoys meat, vegetables, fruit, milk, bread and dessert.

At yearly banquets school groups eat festive foods such as steak, ham, shrimp, roast beef etc. Most clubs like to dress up, invite guests, provide entertainment and enjoyable programs once a year.

Mrs. Nicholson, cafeteria manager, and Mrs. Clay put down rolls while Mrs. Lucy, Mrs. Cates, and Mrs. Kidd prepare chicken pot pie.
